Take a step back in time, on this volunteer operated railway, to the days gone by when the pace of life was much slower. The last passenger train operated by British Railways ran on Saturday 20th February, 1965, but the line struggled on until 28th September, 1973, for freight, primarily milk, and it is from this beginning that the Gwili Railway was formed on 21st April 1975.

The track bed was purchased from Abergwili Junction to Llanpumsaint together with the stations at Bronwydd Arms and Conwil, but with only 1/4 miles of track from Bronwydd Arms to Cwmdwyfran.

The first train ran at Easter 1978 using one coach pulled by a steam engine called Merlin/Myrddin. Our track is now 4.8 miles inc Abergwili.

Take the train through the beautiful GWILI VALLEY, where the London North Western Railway met the GWR, to Danycoed Halt on a line which used to link the market town of CARMARTHEN with the seaside resort of ABERYSTWYTH.

Visit the 1885 Signal Box, Victorian Tea Rooms and Museum at Bronwydd Arms, the 1911 Station building with its restored Ticket Office and Travelling Post Office at Llwyfan Cerrig and the delightful GWR Halt at Danycoed. PLEASE NOTE THERE IS NO PUBLIC ACCESS AT OUR ABERGWILI PLATFORM, TRAINS DEPART BRONWYDD ARMS STATION.
